Baaki · బాకీ

A wage advocate in her pocket.

"Bolo. Baaki sambhal lega."

Just speak. Baaki asks.

Built on Gnani.ai Prisma + Timbre

Hyderabad's maids and cooks are often owed money they can't calculate, can't put in writing, and can't safely ask for in their employer's language.

81%

of Hyderabad's domestic workers earned below the state's minimum wage

Montfort Social Institute survey, via Siasat (27 Aug 2025)

6 lakh

domestic workers in Hyderabad alone

Union estimate, Siasat (16 Jun 2025). Officials say 2 lakh.

61.1%

literacy among rural women in Telangana, so voice comes first

PLFS 2023-24, Telangana Today (8 Dec 2024)

Who it's for Domestic workers in Hyderabad, mostly women, who speak Telugu or Hinglish, work in 3 to 6 homes with no contract, and are paid in cash or UPI. Second user: the employer, who opens the link she shares on WhatsApp. No app, no login.

The solution

She speaks, confirms and presses Send. Baaki does the rest: it adds up what she is owed, checks it against the law (Code on Wages 2019; Telangana G.O.Ms.No.6), reads it back to her, and asks the employer for her in a polite, AI-disclosed voice note in his language. It keeps hash-chained proof and follows up until she confirms the money arrived.

Demo in 5 steps (synthetic data)

1. Lakshmi talks in Telugu. The Baaki Meter counts up as she speaks: ₹13,000.
2. Baaki reads it back slowly in Telugu. She says "Haan, sahi hai". Nothing is saved before that.
3. Law check: s.20(2) allows ₹308 of the ₹1,000 sick-day cut, so her baaki is ₹12,692.
4. A polite Hinglish voice note, AI disclosure first, checked by Listen-twice. She shares it on WhatsApp.
5. Sharma ji's page plays it and opens UPI. He taps "I've paid". She confirms it arrived: "Paisa aa gaya!"

How Gnani's models power it

Prisma v3.0 STT	Hears her (te-IN, hi-IN, en-IN in one request, codemix: no language picker), his replies and her spoken consent. Listen-twice: re-hears every voice note before she sends it, to check each amount and the AI label.
Timbre v3.0 TTS	Speaks the read-back (<slow>, <pauses>), the voice notes in Hinglish or Telugu, and "Paisa aa gaya!" (<excited>).
Voice Clone	Opt-in, with spoken consent: the note can be in her own voice.

Every rupee comes from our own Telugu and Hindi number parsers, never from a language model.

Proof

34 / 34

rupee amounts heard exactly across 24 noisy clips: a kitchen as loud as the voice; kitchen, phone line and WhatsApp compression at once.

Stock Gnani voices, a synthetic kitchen, 12 sentences, run once: a small test, not an accuracy rate.

Why it matters, and what's next

Baaki never asks for more than the law supports, so the request is hard to wave away, and she can ask without risking the job. Next: the milkman's bill and chit money (in the app as "other dues"), a basic-phone line on Gnani's voice agents, and more of Gnani's languages.

Not legal advice: it points to the Labour Department, NALSA 15100 and India Labourline.